GENERAL

Unit Management

1. Unit owners may employ a property manager to manage their units as outlined in the Strata Act. If a property manager is not employed, the owner is assumed to be the property manager
2. Any fines incurred by unit tenants or unit guests, will be sent to the owners.
3. Unit owners are responsible for fines and damages incurred by tenants and guests in their units. It is the owner's responsibility to recover losses from their tenants. It is recommended unit owners include appropriate statements to this effect in their rental agreements.
4. Owners must provide STRATA CORPORATION NES 46 with up-to-date information including:
 - a. The owners contact information including phone number and address providing a current email address is encouraged.
 - b. The property manager's contact information including phone number(s) and address is encouraged.
5. The property manager will be contacted for minor and major emergencies. Phone numbers should be supplied providing 24/7 contact information, and property managers are expected to respond promptly to emergency situations. Unit owners are responsible for any costs incurred as a result of a delayed response.
6. Unit owners can avoid some potential emergency costs by providing the Strata Management Company with up-to-date keys for their units.
7. Property managers or unit owners are to provide the STRATA MANAGEMENT Company with up-to-date information on unit occupants including:
 - a. Make, Colour and License plate numbers of occupant's vehicles
 - b. Names of unit occupants - MAXIMUM four occupants per unit including children
 - c. Telephone numbers of unit occupants

Security

1. Unit occupants should only let their own visitors into common areas. Allowing access to unknown individuals is not permitted.
2. Windows are not to be used by anyone for entering or leaving a unit. They are also not to be used for moving furniture, etc in or out.
3. Common doors must be kept closed at all times. Blocking a door open creates a security risk.
4. Lost keys to common areas (ie: outside doors) must be reported to the Strata Management Company immediately. Failure to report lost keys may present a security risk and will be dealt with accordingly.
5. Replacement keys to common areas must not be duplicated, nor must common locks be tampered with. The Strata Management Company will provide replacement keys and re-key locks where necessary at owners expense.
6. No illegal substances, or activities, are permitted on Strata property. In addition to Strata imposed penalties, anyone suspected of criminal activity will be reported to the RCMP.
 - a. In case of a noise complaint or suspected criminal activity, contact the RCMP and then inform the Strata Management Company.
7. Incident Report forms are available from the Strata Management Company to report offences. Please obtain and use these forms to help your Strata Council and Strata Management Company maintain a safe and secure living environment.
 - a. Names are kept confidential as requested. An exception is if the report becomes part of a criminal investigation and the police need to speak with witnesses etc.
 - b. False reporting may result in Strata imposed penalties. Unit occupants are expected to clearly state the facts.
 - c. Incident report forms may form the basis for imposing fines and penalties, particularly when multiple witnesses, or reports, are in agreement.
8. Strata may employ a private security company to routinely check the complex. The reports from private security personnel may also form the basis for fines and penalties imposed by the Strata Council.
9. Strata will also employ cleaners and other contractors at various times. It is expected that these contractors will be treated respectfully in the performance of their duties. Problems with contractors should be forwarded to the Strata Council. Impeding a contractor in the performance of their job may result in Strata imposed fines or penalties.
 - a. Examples – preventing the annual Fire Inspection from being conducted in a timely manner.
 - b. Preventing cleaning the common area by leaving debris in common hallways.

PETS

1. All pets must be approved of in writing by the Strata Management Company. Guidelines and pet application forms are available from the Strata Management Company.
